040 Diabetes Mellitus-Related Nephropathy

1.5 CH, 0.5 Rx

Alexis Harris Snead, MD

This session will provide an in-depth examination of the changes that occur in the nephrons with diabetes mellitus and how those changes affect the patient and the treatment plan.

050 Doing More with Less: Tips for the Nephrology Nurse Manager

1.5 CH

Johnsa Morris, MBA, MHA, BSN, RN, NEA-BC

As a leader, do you have to ask your staff to do more without increased resources? This session will address technologies to improve workplace efficiency, cost-containment opportunities, and ways to leverage current and former staff knowledge and skills to enhance performance.

060 Utilizing Advance Care Planning in Practice

1.5 CH

Roxanne Roth, DNP, RN, CNE

What is advance care planning and when should it be initiated? Discover how to facilitate advance care planning discussions with your patients, taking into consideration each patient's values and goals, and understand the tools available to assist with the planning process.

The conference helped me gain confidence in my everyday practice as an acute inpatient dialysis nurse. The education, personal connections, and overall experience has allowed me to become a more well-rounded, prepared dialysis nurse and in turn I can empower and better advocate for my patients' care.

Marisa G., Whittier, CA

1.25 CH, 1.0 Rx

Wendy St. Peter, PharmD, FCCP, FASN, FNKF

Guidelines for determining the severity of hypertension as well as recommended treatments continue to change. This session will answer your questions about the stages of hypertension, treatment guidelines, and nursing care indications.

112 Practice Challenges Facing the Pediatric Nephrology Nurse

1.25 CH, 0.75 Rx

Jessica Geer, MSN, RN, C-PNP, CNN-NP

This session will focus on strategies to address issues and concerns for pediatric patients and their parents, including living with a chronic disease, childhood obesity, bullying, prescription medication abuse, and more.

113 New Leader Succession Planning

1.25 CH

Judy Kauffman, DNP, MSN, RN, CNN

When and how should a manager prepare staff to assume leadership positions? Integrating leadership into daily practice, self-awareness when transitioning from staff nurse to leader, and supporting professional development will be addressed.

114 Gout: Pharmacology Is Not the Only Treatment

1.25 CH, 0.75 Rx

Hasan Joseph Salameh, MD, FASN, FACP

Gout is often a comorbidity of kidney disease. Review the symptoms, etiology, and risk factors for gout as well as prevention and treatment goals for individuals with kidney disease.

Conference Program

3:15 pm - 4:30 pm
CONCURRENT SESSIONS (121-124)

121 Intradialytic Hyper- and Hypotension

1.25 CH, 1.25 Rx

Amber Sanchez, MD

Blood pressure variations are common during dialysis. This session will explore the etiology and pathogenesis of blood pressure changes as well as the implications for the patient. Treatment and prevention of intradialytic blood pressure variability also will be discussed.

122 Updates from the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services

1.25 CH

Gail DeWald, BS, RN, CNN

What is the distinction between the rules/regulations of accreditation bodies and the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS)? How do changes in those rules/regulations impact the survey process? What if your organization's accreditation lapses? This session will answer these questions and more, including ones related to CMS criteria for transplant referral.

123 Nutritional Challenges in Patients with Multiple Chronic Diseases

1.25 CH

Melody Kienholz, RD, CSR

Individuals with multiple chronic diseases often deal with dietary and nutritional challenges. Recipes and tools to promote proper nutrition as well as educational tips for patients and significant others will be shared.

124 The Personal Journey of Living with Kidney Disease

1.25 CH

David White, RN, CNN

How would you cope with a kidney disease diagnosis and subsequent treatment decisions? Listen to this firsthand account of living with kidney disease and awaiting a transplant, including the emotions experienced and decision making required throughout the process.

4:30 pm - 6:30 pm

Exhibits Open / Reception

I benefited from the overall conference experience. I met many new friends and have been keeping in contact with them after the conference. I am new to nephrology as an APRN. This education helped to fill in gaps or supplement what I had learned so far in nephrology. I keep referring back to my handouts with my clinic, hospital, and dialysis patients.

211 Multi-System Downstream Effects of Poorly Controlled Hypertension

1.5 CH

Mary Schira, PhD, RN, ACNP-BC

Does hypertension affect organs in addition to the kidney and heart? Learn about the multisystem effects of hypertension, including the potential impact on the eyes, brain, and sexual function.

212 Sickle Cell Treatment Modalities: Apheresis and Hemodialysis

1.5 CH, 0.75 Rx

Rasheed Balogun, MD, FACP, FASN, HP

This session will provide an in-depth review of sickle cell disease, including genesis, pathophysiology, symptoms (and triggers), treatment options, as well as medical and nursing interventions.

213 Empowered Kidney Care

1.5 CH

Richard Gibney, MD

Empowering patients to participate in health care decisions is associated with a decrease in mortality and hospitalizations. Is there a secret formula for patient empowerment? Explore ways to empower your patients by fostering trust, building relationships, and sharing stories.

214 Dialyzing the Hospitalized Patient

1.5 CH

Ramin Sam, MD

How do you determine the optimal modality for a hospitalized patient requiring dialysis? Who makes that decision – the intensivist or the nephrologist? When is dialysis initiated? This session will review dialysis treatment options for the hospitalized patient and how to achieve the ultimate dialysis prescription for each patient.

11:30 am - 12:30 pm

Exhibits Open

12:45 pm – 2:30 pm

220 Lunch / Non-CE Product Theater

Sponsored by Amgen

Conference Program

CONCURRENT SESSIONS (231-234)

231 Peritoneal Membrane Physiology

1.0 CH

Lucy Todd, MSN, ACNP-BC, CNN

This session will focus on peritoneal dialysis and the peritoneal membrane, including anatomy and physiology, pathological transport barriers, as well as PET testing and ultrafiltration failure.

232 The HOPE (HIV Organ Policy Equity) Act: HIV + Organ Donation

1.0 CH

Darnell Mompoint-Williams, DNP, CRNP

Learn more about the HOPE (HIV Organ Policy Equity) Act and its impact on organ donation in individuals with HIV. The history of the Act, its implementation, organ donation and recipient criteria, current research, and future implications will be discussed.

233 The Importance of Fluid Management in Dialysis Patients

1.0 CH

Deborah Glidden, MSN, APRN-BC, CNN

Fluid management in dialysis patients can be confusing. This session will examine the consequences of volume overload on morbidity and mortality. Barriers to fluid control, strategies for effective fluid management, and calculations for optimum ultrafiltration rates also will be highlighted.

234 Essential Tools for the Nurse Manager

1.0 CH

Loretta Jackson Brown, PhD, RN, CNN

How can you as a nurse leader manage your time more effectively? Learn about tools and resources to help organize your time and responsibilities as well as pearls related to delegation and professional communication to assist you in your professional life.

Conference Program

4:00 pm - 5:00 pm

CONCURRENT SESSIONS (241-244)

241 Peritoneal Dialysis Prescriptions: Maintaining the Patient at Home

1.0 CH

Joanna Neumann, RN, CNN

This session will provide an overview of the various types of peritoneal dialysis (PD) and how to refine the PD prescription with the goal of keeping the patient at home.

242 Changes through Stages: Chronic Kidney Disease Stages 1 and 2

1.0 CH, 0.5 Rx

Kristin Larson, MSN, RN, AGNP-BC

How do we identify patients in stages 1 and 2 of chronic kidney disease (CKD)? This session will review the manifestations of CKD stages 1 and 2 and propose ways to slow disease progression while preserving and protecting kidney function.

243 Engaging a Healthy Work Environment

1.0 CH

Tracy Holman-Speights, MBA, FNP, MS, RN

As a leader, how do you ensure you communicate effectively, engage in collaboration, exercise effective decision making, and demonstrate authentic leadership? Strategies to enhance your leadership skills and facilitate a healthy work environment will be covered during this leadership session.

244 Moving on Up: Pediatric to Adult Transitions

1.0 CH

Sandra Rodriguez, MN, RN, CNN

This session is ideal if you work with adolescents who are preparing to transition to adult nephrology services. Learn more about the special concerns and issues of adolescents (and their families) who are preparing for care transitions and how to assist them in creating a successful transition plan.

Conference Program

Monday, October 14

7:30 am - 9:00 am

CONCURRENT SESSIONS (311-314)

311 Vascular Access and Cannulation: What the Nephrology Nurse Needs to Know

1.5 CH

Dean Preddie, MD

This session will review the various options for vascular access as well as the essential components of vascular access assessment. Tips for successful cannulation of vascular accesses also will be shared.

312 Changes through Stages: Chronic Kidney Disease Stage 3

1.5 CH, 1.0 Rx

Molly Cahill, MSN, ANP, BC, NP-C, CNN

This session will provide an overview of stage 3 chronic kidney disease, including the disease manifestations, medical and nursing interventions, strategies to delay progression, and tools and resources available for patient care.

313 International Perceptions and Practices for Home Dialysis Therapies

1.5 CH

Paul Bennett, PhD, MHSM, RN, GCertSC

Denise Eilers, BSN, RN

Christy Price Rabetoy, MSN, RN

Throughout the world, individuals with kidney disease have incorporated dialysis treatments into their homes and lifestyles. However, global acceptance, the views of health care professionals, program policies, and program success vary considerably. This session will explore practices and perceptions of home dialysis therapies from an international perspective.

314 Optimizing Informed Consent for Transplant

1.5 CH

Kenneth Andreoni, MD

What is “informed consent” for organ transplantation? This session will describe the regulatory guidelines for informed consent for transplant, informed consent for increased risk donation, and correlation of Kidney Donor Profile Index and Estimated Post Transplant Survival scoring with informed consent.

The conference is a wonderful opportunity to grow educationally and professionally while networking with colleagues from across the country.

Cindy R., Birmingham, AL

Conference Program

9:15 am - 10:45 am

CONCURRENT SESSIONS (321-324)

321 New Nephrology-Related Drugs in the Pipeline

1.5 CH, 1.5 Rx

Tracy Anderson-Haag, PharmD, BCPS

New pharmaceutical agents are released regularly for use in the nephrology care setting. Learn about the newest nephrology-related medications and the implications for your patients and your practice.

322 Changes through Stages: Chronic Kidney Disease Stages 4 and 5

1.5 CH, 1.0 Rx

Danuta Trzebinska, MD

This session will provide an overview of chronic kidney disease stages 4 and 5, including the disease manifestations at each stage, medical and nursing interventions, strategies to delay progression, and tools and resources available for patient care.

323 Human Trafficking: Identification and Intervention

1.5 CH

Jennifer Mansfield

Nurses are mandated to report suspected abuse in their patients. Unfortunately, one form of abuse that is becoming more prevalent is human trafficking. This session will provide insight into human trafficking, including risk factors, identification, reporting, and ways to assist victims.

324 Vascular Pathologies: Beyond Coronary Artery Disease and Vascular Access

1.5 CH, 0.5 Rx

Tiffany Street, DNP, MSN, APRN, ACNP-BC

Nephrology nurses are skilled at recognizing vascular changes in the kidneys, heart, and vascular access, but what about changes that may occur in the legs, the abdominal aorta, or other areas of the body? This session will focus on the “downstream” effects of vascular changes in patients with kidney disease.

11:00 am - 12:00 nn

CLOSING SESSION

330 The Stigmatization of Women and Weight

1.0 CH

Rebecca Pearl, PhD

This informative session will examine the research regarding stigmatization of those who are overweight, particularly women. Explore the treatment guidelines for individuals dealing with obesity, the significance and differences between men and women with increased weight, and strategies to optimize weight loss management for these individuals.
