Optional Preconference Workshops (010-030)
Separate registration fee required (includes breakfast)

010  Certification Review Course
5.75 CH, 2.0 Rx
Lynda Ball, MSN, RN, CNN, Chair
Deborah Brooks, MSN, RN, APN-BC, CNN, CNN-NP
Diane Derkowski, MA, RN, CNN, CCTC
Joanna Neumann, RN, CNN
This workshop will provide a comprehensive review of nephrology nursing, including nephrology concepts and treatment modalities, and is ideal for individuals preparing for certification in nephrology nursing.

020  Update in Acute Care Nephrology
5.75 CH
Donna Braun, BSN, CNN
Julie Davis, MSN, RN, CNN
M. Lee Sanders, PhD, MD
Mary Schira, PhD, RN, ACNP-BC
Explore issues related to patient care in the acute care setting. Topics will include complex patient care following kidney transplantation, caring for patients with cardiac assist devices who require renal replacement therapy, using biomarkers to assess acute kidney injury, and plasmapheresis.

030  Kidneys Inside and Out
5.75 CH, 1.75 Rx
David Goldfarb, MD
Kambiz Kalantari, MD
Robin Landgraf, MSN, RN, PNP-PC
Bharathi Reddy, MD
This workshop will focus on complex clinical issues that may be seen in patients with chronic kidney disease (CKD). Explore the care and treatment of scleroderma, Alport syndrome, renal stones, and genetic transmission of renal dysfunction and disease. Learn how these conditions affect patients who have CKD, or how they may lead to CKD in the future.

7:15 am - 1:15 pm
Leadership Education and Development (LEAD) Workshop (040 or 050) (by invitation only)

040  LEAD Workshop for Chapter Officers
This workshop will provide leadership training and development for ANNA chapter officers. Invitations and complete program details will be provided to incoming 2019-2020 chapter officers in February 2019.

050  LEAD Workshop for SPN Leaders/Advisors
This workshop will provide leadership training and development for Specialty Practice Network (SPN) Leaders and Advisors. Invitations and complete program details will be provided to incoming 2019-2020 SPN Leaders/Advisors in February 2019.

Note: The LEAD orientation program includes the preconference workshop as well as two symposium sessions on Monday, April 15 (session #135 or #136 AND session #145 or #146).

10:15 am - 11:30 am
Concurrent Sessions (131-136)

131 Kidney Function and Failure in Neonates
1.25 CH, .25 Rx
Danielle Soranno, MD
Renal function in neonates is different from older children, which is important to note when caring for neonates experiencing renal failure. Risks and benefits of dialysis in neonatal patients along with indications for treatment will be discussed.

132 Confirming the Importance of Oral Health in CKD
1.25 CH
Mary Brennan, DNP, AGACNP-BC, ANP, FAANP
Patients with CKD may have poor oral health and have to deal with the associated consequences. Learn more about these consequences and how to develop an individualized approach to good oral health.

133 Cardiac Dysrhythmias in Patients with CKD Therapy
1.25 CH
Brenda Jahnke, MSN, RN, CNS
Explore the pathophysiology, epidemiology, and risk factors of cardiac dysrhythmias in patients with CKD; and develop strategies to prevent and treat dysrhythmias in this patient population.

134 Don’t Get Mad, Get Involved: Advocacy in Action
1.25 CH
Gale Adcock, MSN, APRN, FNP-BC, FAANP, FAAN
Nurses can play a vital role in advocating for changes in health policy. Learn how nurses can be involved individually and collectively to influence health policy in our communities and our country.

*135 Effective Communication and Coaching Skills for the Nephrology Nurse Leader
1.25 CH
Jennifer Payton, MHCA, BSN, RN, CNN
Effective communication and coaching are primary tools for success in our volunteer and professional lives. Learn the essential guidelines for effectively communicating with colleagues.

*136 Technology – Novice
1.25 CH
Celess Tyrell
As an ANNA leader, there are many online tools that can make your volunteer job easier. Review the basics of the tools you will need to use most: ANNA Connected, social media for your chapter, Doodle, Dropbox, and more as time allows.

*Sessions 135 and 136 are designed for ANNA volunteer leaders as part of the LEAD orientation program.

My first ANNA conference exceeded my expectations by 100%. I got a major injection of inspiration to learn more, lead more, and become a more valuable hemodialysis nurse to my company and my patients.

Maria A., RN
San Francisco, CA

“
Networking with fellow experts in the nephrology specialty is by far the most valuable takeaway from the ANNA symposium.

Nenita C., BSN, RN, CNN
Dallas, TX

11:45 am - 1:00 pm
Concurrent Sessions (141-146)

141  Sepsis Recognition
1.25 CH, .5 Rx
Rasheed Balogun, MD, FACP, FASN, HP(ASCP)
What are the signs and symptoms of sepsis in a patient with CKD? How does sepsis affect kidney function, and how does that impact sepsis treatment? Learn the answers to these questions as well as the long-term effects of septic shock.

142  Burnout and Resilience: A Preventive Strategy
1.25 CH
Judy Kauffman, DNP, MSN, RN, CNN
How can you deal with burnout? How do you maintain – or build – resilience? Dr. Kauffman will share tips for preventing or circumventing burnout and achieving resilience in your professional life.

143  Home Therapy: Physical Assessment
1.25 CH
Marijo Johnson, BSN, RN, CNN
How does the interprofessional approach to home therapy comprehensive assessment differ from an assessment for an in-center patient? This and other questions will be addressed in this discussion of patient assessment in the home setting.

144  Resistant Hypertension
1.25 CH, 1.25 Rx
George Bakris, MD
Explore the characteristics of resistant hypertension, including epidemiology, how to evaluate volume control, and what to expect in patients. Frequency of management follow up as well as the education and lifestyle reinforcement necessary to manage this disease process will be discussed.

*145  Mentoring Discussion Roundtables
1.25 CH
Cindy Richards, BSN, RN, CNN and ANNA Leaders
An ANNA leader will facilitate mentoring and discussion at each table. Targeted questions will start the interaction, and then each group will determine topics for discussion.

*146  Technology – Intermediate
1.25 CH
Celess Tyrell
As an ANNA leader, there are many online tools that can make your volunteer job easier. Review the basics of ANNA Connected, social media for your chapter, Doodle, Dropbox, Google Drive, Eventbrite, and more. Also, learn some new online tools, tips, and tricks that may work for your chapter.

*Sessions 145 and 146 are designed for ANNA volunteer leaders as part of the LEAD orientation program.

50th Anniversary Celebration Gala

Monday, April 15 ★ 7:30 pm - 10:30 pm

Join colleagues and friends as we celebrate nephrology nursing and ANNA’s 50th anniversary with a special gala. The evening will open with a cocktail reception and networking opportunity. Then, enjoy dancing and refreshments during a special anniversary celebration event.

Cocktail/party attire encouraged.
Tuesday, April 16

7:00 am - 8:30 am
201 Breakfast / Symposium (pending corporate support)

8:45 am - 10:30 am
Exhibits / Posters / Coffee Break

10:30 am - 11:45 am
Concurrent Sessions (211-215)

211 Ins and Outs of Clinic Development in Nephrology Practices
1.25 CH
Leah Foster Smith, MSN, APRN, FNP-C, CNN-NP
If you are interested in starting an APRN-led CKD clinic, this session is for you! From the beginning details to guideline development, financial considerations, and impact on quality of care, learn about the many factors involved in establishing a CKD clinic in a nephrology practice.

212 Pressure Injuries
1.25 CH
Christine Thies Berke, MSN, APRN-NP, CWOCN-AP, AGPCNP-BC
Develop a more in-depth understanding of pressure injury risk and prevention in patients in clinics, at home, and in acute care settings. Learn tips and techniques for assessing for pressure injuries in dialysis units when patients are fully clothed and what staff can do to help prevent pressure injuries.

213 Transplant Readiness: Fundraising
1.25 CH
Yulanda Horton, MBA/MHA, BS
What are the costs related to transplantation? How can a patient in need of a transplant obtain financial support? This session will explore potential sources of transplant funding, the increasing use of fundraising, and the pros and cons of fundraising websites.

214 Recognition of the Patient Abusing Alcohol
1.25 CH
Susan Crosland, MSN, RN
It is important for clinicians to be able to recognize alcohol abuse in patients. This session will address alcohol cues, index of suspicion, and assessment tools. In addition, discover ways to initiate a discussion about alcohol abuse and to identify the effect of an individual’s support system on recovery.

215 Palliative Dialysis as an Option for Older Adults
1.25 CH
Debra Hain, PhD, APRN, ANP-BC, GNP-BC, FAANP
Traditionally, older adults on dialysis have been considered higher risk than younger patients. Dr. Hain will share information about newer treatment models for older adults with end-stage renal disease and explore the concept of palliative dialysis in this important session for nurses who care for older patients.

12:00 nn - 1:30 pm
220 Nephrology Nurse Recognition Luncheon
Celebrate your colleagues’ accomplishments as the ANNA Outstanding Achievement Award winners are announced. The luncheon also will include the annual ANNA business meeting and induction of the 2019-2020 Board of Directors.
231 Hypotension Basics
   1.25 CH, .75 Rx
   Barbara Odom, BSN, RN, CDN
This session will examine the basics of hypotension, including causes across the continuum of CKD, signs, symptoms, and treatment options. When should treatment be initiated? And, what are the differences in treatment when caring for acute, chronic, or transplant patients?

232 When the State Comes Marching In: Is Your Staff Prepared?
   1.25 CH
   Gail Dewald, BS, RN, CNN
How do you prepare your unit for a survey? What is the process for the new and experienced APRN, RN, and PCT? Learn more about differentiating between surveys initiated due to patient complaints and those that are standard reviews; and develop an action plan for survey responses.

233 Fabry Disease: An Uncommon Disorder with Serious Renal Consequences
   1.25 CH
   Cynthia Smith, DNP, CNN-NP, FNP-BC, APRN, FNKF
Learn all you need to know about Fabry disease. This session will cover the disease pathology, genetics, inheritance pattern, associated renal changes, risks for progression to ESRD, and the role of nephrology nurses in patient care.

234 From Idea to Article: Writing for Publication Workshop
   1.25 CH
   Beth Ulrich, EdD, RN, FACHE, FAAN
This session will review manuscript development and publication processes and help participants create a plan for writing a manuscript for publication.

235 Gut Microbiome: How the Gut Affects the Kidney
   1.25 CH, .5 Rx
   Mary Schira, PhD, RN, ACNP-BC
What is the gut microbiome? Explore how the gut microbiome is involved in CKD progression and the development of complications. Recent interventions targeting the gut microbiome for therapeutic purposes also will be shared.
241 Social Media Pitfalls
1.0 CH
Celess Tyrell
Social media can be a wonderful tool, but there are potential pitfalls and dangers associated with this technology. Learn tips for what should and should not be posted on social media, ramifications of sharing inappropriate information, and ways to make social media more productive and beneficial. Instructions for using this technology also will be provided as time permits.

242 Beers Criteria for Potentially Inappropriate Use (of Medications) in Older Adults
1.0 CH, 1.0 Rx
Rowena Elliott, PhD, RN, CNN, AGNP-C, FAAN
The Beers Criteria for determining the appropriateness of using various medications in older adults will be the basis of this presentation. Application of this information to patients with CKD also will be explored.

243 Vascular Access in Pediatric Patients with CKD and ESRD: How Nurses Can Impact Care
1.0 CH
Tyson Moore, APRN, FNP-C, CPN
This session will address vascular access in pediatric patients with kidney disease, including the impact of the size of vessels, strategies for cannulation, and assessment and care of the cannulation site.

244 The Synergy Between a Fulfilling Nursing Career and ANNA
1.0 CH
Lesley Dinwiddie, MSN, RN, FNP, CNNe
Ms. Dinwiddie will share her experience in fostering professionalism and expertise by creating synergy between a nursing career and involvement in a professional nursing organization (ANNA). Explore the many facets of building a professional nursing career during this informative session.

245 Getting to the Heart of Malnutrition: Connecting Inflammation, Malnutrition, and Cardiovascular Health in CKD
1.0 CH
Wai Yin Ho, MSEd, MS, RDN
Malnutrition in patients with CKD is not uncommon, and there is growing understanding of the connection among inflammation, malnutrition, and cardiovascular health in CKD. Inflammation leads to protein energy wasting and is the basis for CKD and cardiovascular issues. Strategies to address these complexities will be the focus of this session.

4:30 pm - 5:30 pm
Concurrent Sessions (251-253)

251 Abstracts Presentations: Clinical Focus
1.0 CH
252 Abstracts Presentations: Research Focus
1.0 CH
253 Abstracts Presentations: Potpourri
1.0 CH
7:15 am - 9:00 am
301 Top Pharmacologic Conundrums in CKD
1.75 CH, 1.75 Rx
Tracy Anderson-Haag, PharmD, BCPS
Learn more about the many medications that patients with CKD may take and their interactions. For instance, how do pain management medications/opioids, proton-pump inhibitors, steroids, immunosuppressants, anticoagulants, diabetic drugs, and cardiac drugs interact, and what information is important for the nephrology nurse to know?

9:15 am - 10:30 am
Concurrent Sessions (311-314)

311 Transplant Allocation
1.25 CH
Amy Woodard, BSN, RN, CNN, CCTC
How is the allocation system for transplants working? This session will focus on how kidneys are distributed and how patients and kidneys are matched for transplantation. Why the wait for transplants can be so long and how this time might potentially be reduced also will be addressed.

312 Stroke in Individuals with CKD
1.25 CH, .75 Rx
Karen Merriman-Noesges, MSN, RN, ACNP-BC
Patients with CKD are at risk for strokes. This session will examine the specific risk factors for stroke in patients with CKD, emergency management if a stroke occurs, and the evidence-based guidelines for the care of this patient population.

313 Vascular Access: An International Perspective
1.25 CH
Lynda Ball, MSN, RN, CNN
Maria Teresa Parisotto, RN
Nephrology nurse experts from the United States and Europe will discuss vascular access in their respective countries with the goal of learning from each other and identifying best practices.

314 How to Become a Leader: Primer for Millennials
1.25 CH
Loretta Jackson Brown, PhD, RN, CNN
How do you become a leader – at work, in your chapter, or in a volunteer role? Do you just “jump in”? Dr. Brown will discuss various pathways to leadership and provide tips for how to begin, or continue on, your own journey to leadership.
10:45 am - 12:00 nn
Concurrent Sessions (321-324)

321  Stop the Train: The Older Adult Using Peritoneal Dialysis
1.25 CH, .5 Rx
Lucy Todd, MSN, ACNP-BC, CNN
This “stop the train” session will focus on the care of older adults using peritoneal dialysis. Case studies will be presented to determine the assessment and treatment plans for various patient scenarios.

322  Nephrology Nursing Malpractice: How to Avoid Being Sued
1.25 CH
Sue Cary, MN, RN, APRN-BC, CNN
This session will provide nephrology nurses with invaluable information on how to prevent a malpractice case. Case studies and discussion will showcase various pitfalls to avoid in your professional life.

323  Kidney Child Life Specialist: Developmentally Supportive Care in the Dialysis Clinic
1.25 CH
Erin Panzella, BS, CCLS, CIMI
Child life specialists are being used to great benefit with pediatric dialysis patients because of the support and developmental expertise they provide. Discussion will include therapeutic play to promote positive coping and the application of this technique in other settings.

324  Acid Base in CKD
1.25 CH, .5 Rx
Denise Link, MPAS, PA-C, FNKF
This session will examine acid base balance in patients with CKD with a focus on differentiating metabolic versus pulmonary imbalances and acute versus chronic imbalances. The impact of the grade of imbalance on kidney function as well as strategies to restore balance across the continuum of CKD will be shared.
